“We would like to play with some Italian boys...”.

www.rgi.it

One “simple” demand and at the same time rich for meant: with these words the members of a team of basket from Serbia put themselves in contact with Italian delegation in ground of Yugoslavia for humanitarian scope. From these little words it’s born the idea “Canestri senza Reti”, that already in the name indicate the motivation that has pushed to the organization of the torneo: the elimination of the material and social barriers between the people of the ex-Yugoslavia.

The first edition took place in the first days of January 2001 and has been an unforgettable experience under various aspects. In the first place it was offered the possibility to boys grown in years of war and between thousand difficulties, suffocated from the embargo and the economic crisis of their country, to exit for the first time in their life from their city walls and to visit a western country and above all to make it playing basket, sport of which in Yugoslavia they are masters from always. The torneo was dedicated to the boys of 13 years and has seen the participation of the KK Kolonac from Kragujevac, the Klub Velez from Mostar and the Basket Academy Tblisi of the Georgia, the Ivrea team, the FILA Biella, the Moncalieri, the Santarcangiolo (from the Romagna) and the Pielle from Matera. The end has seen the boys of Kragujevac win on Mostar in an unforgettable day of sport, but not only... Particularly moving the salute at the moment of the departure between Bogoljub Djulic (Serbian trainer of Kragujevac) and Aziz Sunje (Bosnian trainer of Mostar) with tears and embraces sincere.

The great happening of the tournament and the success that it has collected between the participants have carried in the time to the increase of the torneo: in the years the teams participating are grown from eight to sixteen, being involved teams also from other countries like Croatia, Slovenia, Macedonian, France, Spain, Lituania and Denmark, for which it is becoming the main manifestation of category of the entire Italian peninsula. The program has become rich with the organization of a All Star Game between the best boys from every team, with the participation of external groups like “Da Moves”, with the innovation of the meetings between trainers become soon cultural and eno-gastronomic exchanges and with the hospitality given to the boys from the Ivrea families. The organizers moreover have intentional who the games were directed from young referee: an occasion for the Italian Federation Basketball in order to verify the acts and the increase of the young directors of contest. Without to count, event still more important, the fixed participation of one Ivrea team to the analogous manifestation to Kragujevac (Serbia), the tournament Djurdjevdan, in program every year at the beginnig of the May month.
